Getting around Campinas

Unicamp is located in the Barão Geraldo district of Campinas, approximately 30 minutes from Viracopos International Airport (VCP), which is about 30 km away.

In addition to taxis and ride-hailing services such as Uber and 99, attendees can also use the city's public transportation system. Bus routes and timetables are available through EMDEC:

Campinas has long been recognized as a hub of Brazilian creativity and culture. The city is historically linked to pioneering figures such as Hercule Florence (photography), Roberto Landell de Moura (radio), and Santos-Dumont (aviation), and it is the birthplace of the renowned composer Antônio Carlos Gomes.

Today, Campinas hosts a dynamic ecosystem of academic and research institutions, particularly distinguished in microelectronics and advanced technologies. Among its leading centers are Unicamp, CTI, CPqD, CNPEM (home to Sirius, LNLS, and LNNano), and Eldorado, among many others.

Beyond its scientific and technological prominence, Campinas offers a variety of attractions, including Portugal Park (Taquaral), the Municipal Market, the Old Train Station, the Cathedral, the scenic steam-train ride Maria Fumaça, and the nearby charming town of Holambra.

LOCATION & ACCESS

The choice of UNICAMP, in Campinas, is no accident. We occupy the heart of one of the country's largest technology hubs to offer an immersive, inspiring experience.

- In-Person Experience: Participants will have access to the university's facilities, making face-to-face networking and visits to technology booths easier.
- Digital Experience: For those who can't be in Campinas, our exclusive platform offers real-time streaming with high-fidelity sound and video, enabling chat interactions and access to session materials, ensuring that distance is never a barrier to knowledge.
